

DISCOVER ANGERS - THE CASTLE AND THE MAINE RIVER

In Angers, the Maine runs beside a city with centuries of history. Above the river, the towers of the Château d'Angers guard a medieval masterpiece: the Apocalypse Tapestry. From there, walk to Saint-Maurice Cathedral and through the old Cité quarter, past historic façades and viewpoints over the town.

Not to be missed

- Château d'Angers

Its mighty towers overlook the Maine and shelter the Apocalypse Tapestry.

- Saint-Maurice Cathedral

A landmark of the old Cité quarter, celebrated for its architecture and stained glass.

- The Maine riverfront

See the château and the town skyline from a different angle by the water.

1

IN THE HEART OF THE OLD CITÉ

- The château: explore its ramparts and discover the Apocalypse Tapestry.
- The Cité: stroll between the castle and the cathedral.
- Saint-Maurice: look up at its vaults and stained glass.

2

A CITY SHAPED BY THE RIVER

- Walk beside the Maine and take in the château and historic façades.
- Cross to the Doutre district for another view of the old centre.

From the château to the banks of the Maine, explore Angers through its history.